A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

SUBMARINE BATTLE.

Armed with a boathook and 10 feet under water, Alexander Anderson, a powerful longshoreman, put up a fight against saving his life yesterday which makes Victor Hugo's submarine duel in the "Toilers of the Sea" lose a lot of its glare as a thriller. Anderson was rescued, despite his struggles to die, but he sent his captor to the hospital, and he will succumb to the blows he received as his rescuer occasionally arose to the surface.

The duel took place in the East river. Darting out of his lodging-house, Anderson ran almost to the water's edge, shouting at the top of his voice. Near the foot of Hamilton avenue he seized a boathook and stood his ground, mumbling and shrieking in his Swedish dialect and brandishing his weapon.

Robert Stevens was the first to get near him. Anderson knew of Stevens' prowess and, evidently, did not relish a combat with his powerful frame.

He had enough sense left to know that he would have a better chance in the water with Stevens, who is six feet tall and muscular, so Anderson jumped into the river, carrying his hook with him. Stevens followed. He dived directly where Anderson's form was last seen.

No one knows just what happened under the water. Several persons, who gathered on the pier, say that every few seconds an arm or a leg would appear above, and once Stevens' face arose, showing a great gash down the right side. Once Anderson reached the surface and swung his hook savagely downward. A stillness followed, and only bubbles showed that life remained below the water. In a few seconds Stevens came up and feebly cried for help.

Charles Walsh, who had arrived during the struggle and was vainly trying to learn the cause of the excitement, jumped in. He found one of Stevens' hands clutching the Swede by the neck. Anderson was unconscious and Stevens was fast losing the little strength that remained when they were rescued.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much fear the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequaled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists. 50c.

JAPAN LIMITS EMIGRATION.

The government's desire to avoid future emigration complications are shown by the restrictions just placed upon emigration companies in Japan The enforcement of a deposit of 50,000 yen has already brought about the dissolution of six of the more irresponsible companies, which fattened on the business to Hawaii and California. It is believed a number of others will collapse on account of this deposit and the prospect of stricter government regulations, involved in the newly created Colonial Bureau of the Foreign Office, whose business will be to supervise all emigration. Thirty companies have been actively engaged. Probably half will be eliminated.

Realizing that the trouble with the United States and Canada comes primarily from the Japanese leaving Hawaii, the Government has issued orders restricting the number that each company may send to Hawaii to 35 a month, of whom not more than 18 shall be men. This is designed to meet the objection heretofore raised that immigrants are mostly men.

The prospect of strict government supervision is not enjoyed by the companies, who anticipate destruction of a hitherto lucrative business. The press generally indorses it on the ground that it insures proper protection of Japanese emigrants at the hands of the companies, and will serve to remove the possibilities of international complications.

A substantial movement to divert the emigration stream to Korea is seen in the organization with the government's approval of the Oriental Colonial Company. The company plans to purchase waste Korean lands for lease or sale to Japanese immigrants on easy terms.

SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 12, 1907.

SECRETARY TAFT when he shall have arrived in Manilla next Monday will find himself confronted by serious problems. While the Americans at that place are preparing to receive the secretary with honors due his position, many of the natives fail to manifest enthusiasm over his contemplated visit. There seems to be divers reasons for this. After the party favoring immediate independence had won such a sweeping victory at the election of delegates to the assembly, Governor General Smith called a halt on the plan to have city governors chosen by the people. Some say that this order came from Taft. Since the election feeling has run high about the way in which the old insurgent flag has been flaunted in the faces of Americans and "Aginaldo's March" has been played on the streets by bands. Manila merchants are not permitted to keep the flags on shelves or in windows. As indicative of the feeling over the flag, here is a quotation from El Renacimiento, a native newspaper of Manila:

The prohibition of the Filipino flag is a slight to the Filipino people. The flag is a symbol of our ideals and our liberty, and to forbid its display is an attempt against our most sacred aspirations. It gave the lie to the solemn promises of the government of the United States.

The same paper in discussing the postponement of the reform of the Manila government says:

We ask that the government not be unmindful of the popular clamor which demands a bona fide administration of the interests of the community. A policy of repression, which it is said the government has entered upon, after the clearly expressed wish of the people at the elections, would be contrary to the administration and the prelude to trouble.

THERE WAS a large attendance at the meeting of the New York Library Club, which was held Thursday afternoon at the Hudson Park branch of the New York Public Library. Sam Walter Foss, poet and librarian, of Summerville, Mass., made the address of the afternoon. Mr. Foss, among other things, referred to what he said is a serious problem in library circles—the lack of men among the people who come to take out books. "What shall we do to relieve our libraries from the reproach of being feminine institutions—of being institutions for the dissemination of novels?" he asked. "We must be forced to the conclusion that this generation of men is not intellectual. Most men today are newspaper drunkards. They can take no other intellectual tipple. Newspapers are good—I like them myself—but it is too bad to see man becoming a bookless animal. It's getting so now that only women are to be seen at church, libraries, lectures and concerts. The only gatherings where women do not predominate are at prize fights." Mr. Foss's observations are facts. Conservative newspapers are essential in all civilized communities, but they contain so much trashy reading that the intellectual nature of thousands are stunted, and the demand for standard books is falling off yearly.

ANOTHER slump in the securities of public service corporations in New York yesterday, following that of Thursday, told how deep the alarm of investors had been stirred by the disclosures of the looting of the Metropolitan traction concerns. Anthony N. Brady put the last straw on the camel of public confidence when he told on the witness stand how he had sold a blue-print railway to the Metropolitan Securities Company, under the management of the Dolan-Widener-Whitney coterie; had received in payment a check for $965,000, although his price had been but $250,000, and had distributed the balance in checks of $111,000 each to William C. Whitney, P. A. B. Widener, Thomas Dolan, W. L. Elkins and Thomas F. Ryan, with a mysterious check of $134,000 to the brokerage firm of Moore & Schley. The infamies in the railway business in New York, as they have thus far been closed, point to conditions which appear to be even worse than they were in the insurance business. Is there any wonder that people are losing confidence in so many securities?

THE performance of the Lusitania, in making the passage from Daunt's Rock, just outside of Queenstown, to Sandy Hook Lightship, in four days nineteen hours fifty-two minutes, has established new records for ocean travel, and the four-day boat has materialized. In making this fast trip, however, the ship burned one thousand tons of coal a day, which shows at what a tremendous cost the record was broken.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Oct. 12.

John G. A. Leishman, the American Ambassador to Turkey, has been granted leave of absence, and has started on his return trip to the United States. Since his elevation to the rank of Ambassador by means of which he has had a more direct access to the ear of the Sultan, Mr. Leishman has had great success in settling up a large number of long-standing matters between the Sublime Porte and the United States. His latest achievement was to complete the purchase of the buildings for the embassy at Pera for which Congress appropriated the money a year ago.

More government reports on Standard Oil will be published during the coming winter, thus completing the most through investigation ever made of a private corporation. Among them will be one on the Standard's foreign business. Data has been collected on the business methods of the Standard in special fields, such as Kansas and Texas, but Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, who has been directing the investigation, has not decided definitely whether these will be published for the present.

It is said here that the Virginia-West Virginia debt case may not be heard in the U. S. Supreme Court on Monday, the date heretofore fixed.

Mrs. Minor Morris, the woman who created a disturbance at the White House some months ago and was ejected, has been pronounced hopelessly insane in St. Louis and sent to the State insane asylum at Farmington, Mo.

News of the Day.

A dispatch from Vienna says that the Emperor was worse yesterday evening. There has been a recurrence of his fever.

A petition to Congress to enforce the automatic block signal system was decided upon yesterday. The railroads were severely scored by the report of the committee on safety appliances.

It is stated in London on good authority that Samuel Clarkson and his bride, formerly Miss Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, the Standard Oil magnate, arrived last night from Liverpool.

Miss Caroline McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Grimesby McCormick, of Baltimore, was married to Francis Louis Slade, of New York, this afternoon at Cloverdale, the home of the bride's parents.

Train Dispatcher Browley, of the Boston and Maine railroad's Concord office is held responsible by the New Hampshire State Railroad Commission for the west Canaan wreck September 16 in which 26 persons lost their lives.

Arthur H. Osborn, a Princeton man and a wealthy young broker, says he and Miss Maloney, the Philadelphia heiress, were married in 1905. The woman and Samuel Clarkson, an Englishman, a guest of the Maloney family, disappeared recently, and it is reported the couple eloped.

In their closing session in Washington yesterday the convention of State Rail road Commissioners took a shot at the federal administration by adopting a report which declared, in regard to railroad rates, that only the State Legislatures have reduced rates. The commissioners failed to agree upon a common plan for railroad investigation and legislation.

Frank G. Hewitt, a well-known commission merchant of Baltimore, was made the defendant in a suit for an absolute divorce instituted yesterday in the Circuit Court by his wife, Ursa Hewitt, 812 north Carey street, who charges him with unfaithfulness and names as corespondent Mae Smith, who, she alleges, is a single woman and now in the employ of her husband as bookkeeper.

The fast westbound train No. 19, on the Pennsylvania road, plowed into a crowd of people at Bourbon station near Warsaw, Ind., Thursday night, killing Tom Sloan, a Warsaw saloon keeper, and injuring several others. At the time of the accident 1,000 persons were standing on the platform, awaiting an east-bound passenger train. Somebody yelled "Here she comes!" and the mass of humanity surged toward the track, several persons being thrown in front of the locomotive.

Gov. Hughes, of New York; Gov. Swanson, of Virginia; Mrs. Donald McLean and H. St. George Tucker, president of the Exposition Company, were the principal speakers at the celebration of the Daughters of the American Revolution Day at the Jamestown Exposition yesterday. The formal exercises were held in the Auditorium, beginning at 11:30 o'clock, and were largely attended.

Mrs. McLean, who is president general of the Daughters, presided and introduced the speakers. The address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. Samuel W. Jamison, State regent of Virginia, and the address of welcome on behalf of the Exposition Company was by President Tucker. Governors Swanson and Hughes received liberal applause during the course of their speeches, and the address of Mrs. McLean was delivered in a very happy vein.

At the conclusion of the exercises the official party was entertained by the Exposition Company at a luncheon at the Swiss village.

The National Daughters were tendered a reception in the Virginia building yesterday afternoon by the Virginia Daughters, and many of the visitors attended last night's reception in the Virginia building to Gov. Hughes.

At the D. A. R. meeting in Norfolk, Thursday Mrs. W. A. Smoot, of Alexandria, not of Petersburg as the dispatches stated, was elected vice president general for Virginia.

The Market.

Georgetown, Oct. 12—Wheat 73a78.

MR. BRYAN IN RICHMOND.

William Jennings Bryan arrived in Richmond yesterday and was escorted to the fair grounds by a reception committee of 150 citizens headed by a band. He was introduced to the vast crowd assembled on the grounds by ex-Governor Montague and spoke for more than an hour.

Former-Gov. Montague, in his introduction of Mr. Bryan said: "No exhibition of man's industrial achievement is wholly unrelated to man's political achievement. So today we can turn quite naturally from the man and his cattle to the man and his government; from the man's industrial life to man's political life. The cattle in yonder stalls are as ignorant of forms and administrations of government as the cattle of thousands of years ago; but man from age to age has steadily increased in knowledge and interest in political affairs, struggling all the while to make government subordinate to man and not man subordinate to government. The establishment of government institutions upon this principle has made this northern hemisphere the hope of the earth. Great groups of men under the forms of parties have come to vie with each other in the maintenance and promotion of out political institutions. Among these parties is the one under whose auspices the address of the day is to be made; a party old in honorable service to the people of the republic; a party born for the average man, and which will endure only so long as it safeguards his liberty and interest. Victories many this party has enjoyed; defeats many it has suffered, and after long separation from power it will soon again come to challenge the judgment of the nation upon the soundness of its creed and its ability of performance."

After the ex-Governor had set forth the principles for which the democratic party contend, he closed as follows:

"Devoted to his country and its institutions, in which the principles I have sketched must find expression, standing for the promotion of the prosperity, intelligence and virtue of all the people, loved by millions at home and respected by thousands abroad, is the gentleman whose address this multitude now awaits, and whom I now present in the person of the great American commoner, William J. Bryan."

Mr. Bryan took for his subject "The Average Man," saying that he wanted to show how numerous and how important the average man is in politics and affairs of the nation. He contrasted the average man of America and of other lands which he had visited. He said that in this country the average man is the important man, and he is above any other average man in the world. "Here we have the common people, and they are the people. The common people is not a term of reproach, but should be a great compliment.

"For the common people and the common people only plead for mankind and the brotherhood of man.

"The common people are those who produce the nation's wealth in time of peace and fight the nation's battles in time of war."

He included in his list of "c people" the farmers, the artisa teachers, the physicians, the m and the lawyers.

He said he would put in pap rmen—not all of them, b would not be safe for the common people to have them. He said that some of the great metropolitan newspapers hire brilliant writers who chloroform the public while the proprietors pick the pockets of the people. He then went on to include the ministers and the railroad men and any one who wants to come into the class.

He would take in even the small bankers, "although in 1896 I found that some of them separated themselves from the common people."

He declared that the common people and the average man believe in a people's government, and, therefore, in a democratic government. He pointed out the difference between the policies of Hamilton and of Jefferson, and exhorted his hearers to the Jeffersonian plan of government. He favored frequent elections of public officials.

Mr. Bryan then touched upon the question of a third term for the presidency referring to the deep-seated prejudice in this country against the third term. "President Roosevelt recognized this," he said, "when he made his declaration on the night of his election. If I had said what the President has said I would not believe in the protestations of friendship of any man who should say that I would change my mind."

Some applause greeted this sentiment.

He said that all over this world there are two parties—the democratic party and the aristocratic party. The democratic party is the growing party, and the aristocratic party is the dying party.

His whole address was an appeal to the common people and the principles of democracy as against plutocracy.

He made an impassioned protest against the tendency toward centralized government and for the preservation of the rights of the States.

Mr. Bryan told his friends here that he was not yet ready to make announcement of his candidacy for the presidency, but he made it clear to them that they might expect it later. Mr. Bryan will be a candidate and will make the fight for the presidency on lines of his own.

As a climax to the visit of Mr. W. J. Bryan to the city a dinner was given in his honor at Murphy's last night, at the end of which he fairly charmed the guests with an eloquent address of about thirty minutes.

There were no other speeches except that of Mayor McCarthy, who, as toastmaster, presented the distinguished Nebraskan in a very happy manner. Covers were laid for about fifty.

The party marched into the banquet hall, the following prominent guests leading: Mr. Bryan with former Governor Montague, Congressman Lamb with Hon. Henry C. Stuart, Judge Ingram with Judge Scott.

In an interview yesterday Mr. Bryan said:

"On the question of child labor and my approval of the Beveridge bill I have this to say: I notice that the people who are interested in coining money out of children's work are very eager to plead State's rights as against any federal control. Nobody believes more in the reserved rights of the States than I; nobody is more for local self-government. But I don't believe that a State which is willing to degrade and destroy the next generation of its people shall be allowed to force its products upon other States and thereby destroy their industrial system. The trusts maintain two sets of attorneys—one set at the State capital to protest that all State legislation is an encroachment on the federal power; the other is stationed at the National Capital to protest that all federal regulation of trusts is a violation of the rights of the State."

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The House of Bishops of the General Episcopal Convention, in private session yesterday, adopted a resolution presented by Bishop Greer, of New York, which, in substance, asks all churchmen to support them in a great proposed fight against child labor in the United States.

The message will be presented to the House of Deputies today.

The Bishop of Vermont, chairman of the house committee on suffrage bishops, presented his report, which was discussed at length, finally being laid on the table for a further discussion at a later day of the convention. Concerning the canonical status of the question, the committee report that, while there is at present no provision for the prohibition of such bishops, no provision was made for them, and in the judgment of the committee it is absolutely necessary that such provision be made, and there should be distinct recognition of them in the constitution.

J. Pierpont Morgan, of New York, introduced a resolution in the House of Deputies that a copy of the standard prayer book be presented to the Bishop of London, the library of the Commonwealth of Virginia and to several northern institutions. The resolution was adopted.

After a long debate, the house, as stated yesterday, accepted the preamble to the constitution as submitted by its author, Rev. Dr. Huntington. The resolution to adopt the preamble was overwhelmingly accepted.

The arguments on the adoption of the preamble were spirited and pointed, several times touching upon the adoption of the "word of God," which was substituted in it, and frequently causing a reference to the celebrated case in which Algernon Crapsey, rector of a church in Rochester, N. Y., was removed as a heretic. Deputy McConnel, of Louisiana, spoke most earnestly against the actions of the deposed clergyman, and said that it was he who ventured to make allusions to the Holy Scriptures as not being the word of God.

Mr. McConnel exclaimed bitterly: "In a celebrated case, recently conducted, in which a clergyman of this church was removed, it proved that passages in the New Testament had been referred to as mere romances." Dr. Huntington explained before the vote was taken that, in view of the apparent opposition to his resolution, he would ask if the vote of the house were close that it be laid on the table. The resolution and preamble were adopted by a vote of 108 to 19. Eight of the dioceses were divided.

The preamble, as amended and offered for adoption, was read, as follows:

PREAMBLE.

This American church, first planted in Virginia in the year 1607, by representatives of the ancient church of England, acknowledg- ew ord Son, alva- t, the to be faith; istry they ving the sacra- as ordained by Christ Himself, and accounting to be members of the flock of Christ all who have been duly baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, has ordained and established, for the furtherance of the work to which it has been called of God, the following constitution:

The report of the committee on marriage and divorce was read, being practically the same as that presented to the House of Bishops several days ago, in which the activity of all Christian bodies in restricting the remarriage of divorced persons is highly indorsed. It urges the utmost vigilance and discipline in the church in securing the most perfect safe-guards of the sanctity of the marriage vows.

It especially sets forth that divorced persons seeking remarriage are at all times anxious to have their past records made clear in seeking the sanction of the church.

The resolution to accept the report and concur in the action of the bishops was laid on the table until the receipt of a message from the House of Bishops.

Chief Justice Andrews, of New York, chairman of the committee on courts of appeal, introduced the report of that committee, asking that the House of Bishops be made a judiciary body for the consideration of all cases which may come up on appeal from the decision of diocesan boards. The court of bishops, as proposed would have the final decision in all cases in which a bishop or clergyman is removed, no matter what the cause may be. The report especially sets forth that any person convicted and denied entrance to the church should on appeal, seek justice at the hands of the House of Bishops.

Following the report of the committee, upon motion, it was agreed to go into a discussion of the report, with a view to rejecting or adopting it. H. L. Thomas, of Pennsylvania, fought the adoption bitterly, giving as his reason the great expense attached to the calling together of a meeting of the bishops. In proceeding, Mr. Thomas said: "I am not opposed to placing all confidence in the House of Bishops, but in acting in the capacity of a court to decide the guilt of of a fellow-bishop or a clergyman in the church, they would be influenced through questions of sentiment, and a guilty man would be more than apt to suffer lightly at their hands."

The convention adjourned yesterday till Monday in order that the members might attend the services at Jamestown today.

Congressman Saunders, of Virginia, deprecated the idea of the bishops being subject to such sentiment, saying that the bishops of the Episcopal Church were men capable of judging any question impartially. In the conclusion of his argument Judge Saunders asked that the question be laid on the table until Monday, there being no session of either house Saturday, when he would introduce a resolution asking that the question be made the order of the day. The resolution was adopted.

The house of delegates adopted a resolution to allow delegates from Protestant Episcopal churches abroad to vote in the deliberations of the convention. They have hitherto had representation, but no vote. The measure was carried by a large majority.

Atlantic City, Cincinnati and Kansas City have already requested the honor of entertaining the next convention. New York is also a candidate.

SERVICES AT JAMESTOWN.

Practically all those in attendance on the Episcopal General Convention, including the members of the Woman's Auxiliary and many visitors, made the pilgrimage from Richmond to Jamestown Island today to be present at the service on the historic spot, where, the first Anglican prayers were said in America, where the first English Church was erected, and where the first legislative body on the new continent assembled.

Four steamboats left Richmond at 8 o'clock this morning, the members of the convention and invited guests going on the Brandon and the Pocahontas as the guests of the Diocese of Southern Virginia. The Woman's Auxiliary diocesan officers went on the steamer Hampton Roads as the guests of the Virginia Branch, Woman's Auxiliary, and another steamer—the Hampton—was operated by the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities. Luncheon was served on board. The service, followed by Holy Communion, was held at 1:30 p. m.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Hau's Appeal.

Leipsig, Oct. 12.—The appeal of Carl Hau, the American lawyer found guilty at Carlsruhe of murdering his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, and sentenced to death, began today before the Supreme Court of Germany.

Most important in the rehearing will be the new testimony to be offered by a young woman of Baden-Baden, the place where the murder was committed, tending to clear Hau. Her story, however, only throws greater mystery over the astounding case.

This new witness, who has known Hau for a long time, says she saw the lawyer enter a cab and drive toward the railroad early on the evening of November 6, the day of the murder. Just as he was driving away she heard the shot which killed Fra Molitor, fired from a different direction. It would have been impossible, she says, for Hau to have fired the shots.

The police are largely responsible for this important evidence being suppressed. When the young woman told her story they actually dissuaded her from going to court.

"Why do you wish to prove Hau's innocence? Do you wish to marry him afterwards?" one police officer asked her. After Hau's conviction the witness, however, told her story to Dr. Dietz, who will make her a leading witness.

Double Murder.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 12.—With the recovery of the body of a man from the Delaware river, with both legs missing and mutilations about the head and chest, and knowledge that a woman corpse, also with legs missing and the throat cut is still in the river, local police believe a double murder has been committed. The woman's body was sucked up by a suction dredge, but fell back into the river before it could be recovered. The man's body was found in the vicinity, and it is awaiting identification. Fishermen declare they saw a rowboat containing three men and a woman put out from the Jersey Shore Monday night. The occupants were quarrelling, and then came sounds of a fight. The only woman reported missing is Mrs. Edward Avis, wife of a New York architect, who disappeared Sunday night. Avis himself has not been seen since he reported his wife's disappearance and he is supposed to be searching for her. The description of the body recovered by the dredge and then lost fits that given of Mrs. Avis.

Secretary Taft at Hong-Kong.

Hong Kong, Oct. 12.—Secretary of War Taft, his wife and their party are "doing" Hong Kong today. Their steamship, the Minnesota, anchored outside the bar at 10 o'clock last night, but did not enter the harbor until dawn.

The tourists breakfasted on board, landed at 10 o'clock, visited the United States consulate and are now making the rounds of the city's points of interest. A reception will be given in their honor at the consulate this afternoon and tonight they will attend a dinner at the Governor's mansion. The Minnesota will sail for Manila late tonight, and will arrive at that place Monday where preparations are being made to receive the party.

The secretary was seen on deck little during the run down the coast, but spent most of his time in his cabin preparing the speech he will deliver at the opening of the Philippine Assembly. He has mapped out a frank discussion of the problems confronting the islands.

Wedding.

Manchester, Mass., Oct. 12.—A wedding of international importance was celebrated today when Miss Amy McMillan, daughter of the late Senator McMillan, of Detroit, was married to Lieutenant-Colonel Sir John Lane Harrington, British Minister to Abyssinia. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother by Rev. Father Gasson, President of Boston College. Miss Grace McMillan Jarvis, the bride's niece, was her only attendant. George Clerk, who was with the groom in Abyssinia was best man. Sir John and Lady Harrington will sail soon for England, going thence to his post in Abyssinia.

In view of the sale of liquor being prohibited in certain Southern and southwestern States of sections of them, the Internal Revenue Department proposes to consolidate certain of these States for revenue collection purposes.

SUN AND SNOW

Sometimes Help the Hair to Grow.

In any changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubby here and there. This makes a hair-dressing almost a necessity, especially to ladies. In using a hair dressing why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called falling hair, and in time baldness. Newbro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel, and how stylish your hair will appear, after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 and $1.00. Break in Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 12.—Wall street was full of long faces this afternoon, many brokers remaining listlessly about their offices after the market closed at noon. The violent break of the morning sent leading stocks down as far as four points and there was general demoralization. Predictions not calculated to give encouragement were made and in some quarters it was asserted that business was paralyzed. The stock market was nervous and irregular at the close though recoveries of one point was recorded in some stocks. It is said that fifteen seats on the stock exchange are for sale.

The heavy buying of a firm, which often represents big banking interests, was the suject of much discussion this afternoon and was the chief factor offsetting general depression. It was estimated that this firm bought at least 200,000 shares of stocks in the last two hours. Members of this firm, however, declined to make any statement as to their day's business.

Twenty-three Men Drowned.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—A dispatch from Grand Marias, on Lake Superior, says that the steamer Cypress owned by the Lackawanna Company, was lost last night off Deer Park, in Lake Superior, 20 miles from Grand Marias, and 23 lives were lost.

The mate is the only survivor. He was washed ashore, lashed to a life raft, and is in a critical condition. He has been unable to tell any details of the wreck save that he is the sole survivor.

A furious gale prevailed on Lake Superior last night and is still raging today. The life saving patrol is searching the beach for any other possible survivors.

The President in Louisiana.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 12.—Tomorrow the Roosevelt camp will be pitched near Newellton, in Tensas Parish, forty miles from the present camp, and 12 miles from a railroad. The President is hunting today in the direction of the new camp and tonight will sleep in the open. It is now believed the bears have left the district in which the President has been hunting. Tracks were found, but they were old ones. The camp outfit will go by train from Stamboul to Newellton today.

The Czar Again in Jeopardy.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—A searching inquiry is in progress to determine responsibility for the stranding of a pinnace from the Imperial Yacht while landing Czar Nicholas yesterday. The pinnace sprung aleak following the crash upon the rock against which it struck and filled so rapidly that quick work was required to transfer Nicholas to another boat. The mishap has especial significance coming so soon after the stranding of the monarch's yacht Standart.

Fire Started by Squirrels.

Newton, Mass., Oct. 12.—A squirrel family started a blaze last night that consumed the Homer L. Tilton Fireworks Company's warehouse, with a loss of $6,000. The animals nibbled some of the dynamite. Flying skyrockets and Roman candles made it impossible for the firemen to get near the blazes with the steamers, and they were forced to fight it with chemicals.

Capable of 650 Knots

New York, Oct. 12.—Six hundred and fifty knots daily is not beyond the Cunarder Lusitania's capacity, according to head engineer George Thompson, of the Cunard Company, a passenger on the steamship on its last trip from Liverpool Thompson says the engine room force is only waiting to grow throughly familiar with the craft before leaving all previous records far behind.

The Emperor Francis Joseph.

Vienna, Austria, Oct. 12.—The condition of Empreor Francis Joseph is somewhat improved today. Both his fever and cough have decreased and he passed a good night. He arose at his usual early hour and was able to transact official business. The physicians' only present anxiety is that his illness may reach permanently upon his general strength.

Case Postponed.

New York, Oct. 12.—At a conference of counsel today the government suit against E. H. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn, to force them to answer questions put to them before the Interstate Commerce Commission was postponed by agreement and set for hearing on November 13 before Judge Hough in the United States District Court here.

Fire in New York.

New York, Oct. 12.—One hundred and fifty thousand dollars damage was done by a fire which destroyed the six-street building at 175-181 Grand story early today. Nearly twenty manufacturing and commercial firms were burned out.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 12.—The market all through the first hour was intensely weak. All around the room bids were satisfied as soon as made. Liquidation was forced and vicious drives were repeatedly made in order to accelerate the downward movement and perhaps create disaster. The result of this heavy selling was that prices reached the lowest levels in many cases that have been touched this year. Covering of shorts on an extensive scale caused rallies at times of about one point, but when this recovery occurred heavier offers followed and further losses resulted. In government bonds the twos registered declined ½ and the fours lost ½; other bonds were lower.

The market closed nervous and irregular with some stocks showing recoveries of about a point, while others were near the bottom.

[Editorial in Hartford, Conn., Daily Courant.]

Collector P. Davis Oakley has voluntarily withdrawn the personal bond of $25,000, given for the proper performance of his duties, and has substituted the bond of a fidelity company for the same amount. This commendable action deserves a passing comment. Mr. Oakley found no difficulty whatever in getting bondsmen, but, whoever his bondsmen might be, there could be no denying that they had put the collector under a direct personal obligation to them. It is far more independent and self respecting, to go down into your own pocket for the premium and pay a corporation, chartered for the purpose, for giving its bond for you. This cost him some money, but with that he buys complete personal independence and sets an example that should be widely followed. It is the way to do business; and it is no reflection upon willing friends to go instead to a company. On the contrary, it is doing them a favor.

This bond was written by the

THE WEISS CASE DROPPED.

As stated yesterday Jacob Weiss, father of Amelia Weiss, will not be brought to trial in the county on the charge of shooting John W. Mullen, because the wounded man refuses to appear against the father of the girl to whom he was engaged. The daughter, held as a witness in the county jail, was released yesterday by order of Commonwealth's Attorney Crandal Mackey. The hearing, which was set for this morning, has been indefinitely postponed.

"Mr. Mullen told me that one reason for his decision not to appear against Mr. Weiss," said Mr. Mackey yesterday, "is because he did not believe that any jury would ever convict Mr. Weiss. He also said he did not believe that he would be entirely safe from a charge should he venture into Alexandria county. 'The only consideration which will ever make me appear publicly in the matter again,' he told me, 'would be the arrest of some negro charged with the crime. In that event I should not hesitate to appear and swear that it was no negro who shot me.'

"When I was notified of Mullen's determination to withdraw his support from the prosecution," continued Mr. Mackey, "I knew that without his testimony I could hope to obtain no conviction in the case.

"I then entered a nolle pros before Magistrate E. F. Thompson, who was to have heard the case Saturday and I guess this is the end of the matter.

"I want to say, however, that I do not feel kindly to persons who have endeavored throughout the investigation of the shooting of Mullen to fix the crime upon a negro. There will be no charge made against Mullen, so far as I know, and of course he would have been perfectly safe in coming to Alexandria county to testify."

It is learned that Mullen's motive for nonprosecution is his desire not to be cross-examined by the attorneys for the defense, being especially desirous to escape certain lawyers' questions which are said to be embarrassing. It is said that Mullen was shot in his thigh; no bullet holes were found in his clothing.

Mullen has practically recovered and will be able to leave the hospital for good within a few days.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Alleging false arrest at the hands of a watchman, named Wilson, while en route from Washington to Norfolk on the steamer Norfolk, Waverly N. Ragland, of Petersburg, has filed suit for $10,000 against the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company in the United States Court at Norfolk. Mr. Ragland states that on the night of September 25th, he was dragged from the saloon deck to the lower deck and there imprisoned for two hours in a "small dirty room." He also declares that the arrest was uncalled for, and that undue force was used by the watchman.

BETHANY CHURCH.

At a meeting of the quarterly conference of Bethany M. P. Church held last night the report of the treasurer showed the finances of the church to be in a most encouraging condition. Out of an expenditure, since its organization, for the past five months and a half, of nearly a thousand dollars in the way of running expenses, repairs to building and furnishings for the church, less than a hundred dollars indebtedness remains, which is provided for. The Sunday school has one hundred and twenty-five scholars, an increase of one hundred and forty per cent.

MR. BARRETT'S LECTURE.

Much interest is being manifested among the men of Alexandria over the lecture of Mr. John Barrett at the Second Presbyterian Church next Monday night. He will doubtless be heard by a large crowd, for all who heard him last spring are enthusastic in their praise. His subject, "The Panama Canal," is timely and attractive.

There was an average supply of country produce in market this morning. Prices were about the same as those which prevailed last Saturday.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

Among the cases in the Police Court this morning was that of two white boys, aged respectively 11 and 9 years, charged with selling brass belonging to the Southern Railway Company. One of the children had received 85 cents for the brass, and the other 35 cents. The accused were dismissed with an admonition after their parents had refunded the money. In disposing of the case the court called the attention of the buyer to the fact that he had dealt with two irresponsible children, and that it should have been apparent to him that the little boys were not disposing of their own property. Railway journal brasses have often figured of late in the Police Court in cases of petty larceny, and fines have been imposed upon those who have sold them. The accused heretofore have been persons who have arrived at the age of responsibility, but, it seems, their example is being followed by others of more tender years.

ALUMNI BANQUET.

One of the enjoyable social events in connection with the Episcopal Convention was the banquet held last night by the alumni of the Virginia Theological Seminary at the Masonic Temple. Covers were laid for about 250 people, among those present being many of the most prominent members of the convention from all parts of the country. Many rectors from Virginia and North Carolina also came in for the occasion. There were a number of notable off-hand speeches, and the evening was greatly enjoyed by all present. — [Richmond Times Dispatch.

Most of the arrangements for opening a night school for boys have been made and Col. T. H. Ficklin, principal of Washington school, has consented to take charge of the school. The boys could not have a better instructor. It is proposed to open the school in one of the rooms in Peabody building on Monday next, if possible.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes for 33 Years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty-three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. More Facts About DEL RAY and ST. ELMO.

It is a well known fact that when a railroad enters an undeveloped country and establishes a round house and freight terminal yard at some junction point, a town necessarily springs up very rapidly, and land values increase very much. These conditions now exist in DEL RAY and ST. ELMO, except that here there are additional good reasons why these towns are sure to have a very rapid growth in the next few years, for the Potomac Yard is the Freight Terminal of six big Railroad Systems, and in addition to the large number of employees who will want their homes near their work. DEL RAY and ST. ELMO are only 20 minutes by electric cars from the center of Washington city, nearer than almost any suburb in the District of Columbia in point of time. The majority of those living in DEL RAY and ST. ELMO are employed in Washington, the railroad people only having just begun to make their homes there, but large numbers will follow them as soon as some one makes use of this opportunity and builds a number of houses for rent or sale on easy terms.

MINISTER AND WOMAN ARRESTED.

Rev. Maxwell H. W. Walenta, pastor of St. Lucas' Reformed Church, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Louis A. Bauer, a parishioner and the wife of an electrotyper, were arrested yesterday and held in court for an inquiry into their mental condition. The action was instituted by Mr. Bauer and the minister's father, Rev. Wenzel Walenta, of the German Emanuel Reformed Church of Brooklyn.

The complaint asserted that Mrs. Bauer had left her husband and child and sought refuge at the younger clergyman's house. The two were charged with offending public decency.

In court the accused minister, who is 28 years of age, denied wrongdoing, but admitted that the woman had been welcomed to his "official room" at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. "She and her husband had differences," he explained. "I saw it was impossible for me to effect a reconciliation. I found there was no sunshine in her life. I welcomed her to my church. I felt in Mrs. Bauer a living soul, and my soul cried aloud for somebody who was alive in the twentieth century. In her I realized my affinity."

The minister admitted that the woman was in his bed room and had reclined her head upon a pillow.

The magistrate committed the prisoners for mental examination.
